TURNIPS—THEIR VALUE—CULTIVATION—PRESERVATION AND USE.

It seems to me, that turnips, especially as a crop for stock, are not sufficiently valued by our farmers. And the time has now come, when high farming should be the mark; and no help should be neglected.—I shall endeavor to give you a short practical article on the subject, drawn from my own observation and experience. I will speak to the reader of a large White Turnip, which I have been cultivating with success for more than thirty years.

THEIR VALUE.

1. The yield of this kind of turnip is very large. I have myself raised over eight hundred bushels to the acre of them. And have had them to weigh as high as thirteen pounds with the top off.

2. The whole period of the growth of the turnip suits our farmers, especially those of them who do not make either cotton or tobacco. Beets, Carrots or Parsnips, are better roots; but they must be planted in early spring, when you are greatly pressed with your work; they must be hand picked after they are cleverly up, to clear them of the grass and weeds which come up along with them, a tedious and expensive job; they occupy land, made as rich as a garden, all the season, to the exclusion of every other crop on the same ground, and they must at last be dug up out of the ground with great labor.

Not so with the turnip; you sow the seed the 1st of August, which is the slackest time about work the farmer ever has; for at that time the corn crop is laid by, and the small grain crop has all been harvested; and the farmer can conveniently turn his attention to this crop. Secondly, you sow them on stubble land, where you have just got a crop. Thirdly, they require very little work; and fourthly, you gather in the crop of turnips about the 1st of December, when you again have time to do it, because your small grain is all sowed and your corn is gathered and in the crib.

3. A dish of good turnips upon your table every day from October to March, which by proper management you can easily have, is no bad thing with good beef or bacon for man. But we are providing now chiefly for stock. Turnips are first rate for your fattening hogs; boiled with their corn until the grain is soft. Of course meal would do better, and a little salt is to be added.—Any body now can put up a wooden sorghum boiler with sheet iron bottom. I do verily believe, you can thereby save at least one third of the corn usually fed away in fattening hogs, and also get a great deal more pork, because the hogs become fatter than when fed on corn alone. And for your sheep through the winter and early spring, especially for the ewes and lambs, you want nothing better. And, reader, you may save all the oats your milk cows eat in the winter, for your horses or for sale; and take the wheat bran from them also and give it to your hogs, the most profitable use you can make of it; and give your cows plenty of good hay or shucks, and plenty of cut up turnips morning and evening after they are milked, which prevents the milk from tasting of the turnips, and two things will happen. First your family will have plenty of milk, a good thing. Second, you will never hear that most uncomfortable complaint, "old man, we are getting no milk, have you got nothing to give the cows?"

MODE OF CULTIVATION.

Take the best piece of stubble land you have, wheat stubble is the best, the richer the better; break it up well with a two horse plough as soon as you can after harvest, two ploughings won't hurt; let it lie till last of July, when all the wheat left on the ground will be up; then put it in complete order; then take a one-horse plow and run it off pretty deep, in single furrows just two and a half feet apart, and sow along in these furrows No. 1 Peruvian Guano, at the rate of 100 lbs. to the acre, then reverse this furrow again with the same plow; then with a common coulter run a shallow trench right above the guano, on this reversed furrow; and in that trench sow your seed, not too thick, cover them very lightly with the corner of your hoe, running it along before you; and tread along the furrow to press the earth to the seed. If you fail to get a stand, keep on sowing into September, till you do get it. If a rain of a day or two comes, sow on the ground without covering. When the tops are a few inches high, thin out to a stand of 9 to 12 inches apart in the rows; and if the ground gets hard afterwards, or much grass or weeds starts among the turnips, coulter them, but throw no dirt to the turnips.

GATHERING AND KEEPING.

You must watch, and gather them before the largest turnips become pithy. About the last week in November is the right time.

In gathering, pull them up and put them in convenient piles in the patch; cut off the crowns, being sure that you cut off the bud. This keeps them from sprouting afterwards.

In putting up turnips for winter use, two things must be guarded against; namely, heating and freezing; either ruins the turnips, and they are very liable to both heating and freezing. Hence you must not put them into large piles, and they must be covered very securely. Put as many as you will use by the 1st. of January in a dry cellar or in a house. But they keep best out of doors for later use.

Put them up in this way in rows on a convenient piece of ground, which will be better if a little sloping, to prevent the water from standing. Start the piles three feet wide at the bottom and coming to as sharp a ridge at top as you can form; putting stobs down along the centre of the rows, as you pack the turnips, about three feet apart, and pack to this row of stobs.—Then cover the sides of the rows with straw lightly, and take the earth from along the rows, and cover them six or eight inches deep, so that they cant be frozen through it. The object of putting down the stobs or stakes is to make vents for the heated air to escape from the turnips when they begin to sweat. After a few weeks they are to be drawn out, and the mouth of the holes stopped with loose straw.

Getting wet will not hurt them. In using them, begin at one end of a row, and after taking out what you want at a time, stuff the aperture well with straw to keep out the air and cold.

Boil them for hogs, and cut them up raw with a spade or hatchet on the barn floor for cows and sheep. You cannot make ground too rich for turnips. You may manure highly and use Guano both, and use 200 pounds to the acre instead of 100 if you like. But fresh manure breeds vermin, which destroy the turnips. I prefer to manure the ground I intend for turnips the fall before as heavily as I can, sow it in the little purple straw wheat, which has a stiff straw, and feed it off with my cows and lambs when the ground is dry, till 1st. of April, and then add the guano at the time of sowing.

But land in other respects suitable for turnips which will make 4 bls. of corn or 8 bushels of wheat to the acre, will produce a very fair crop of turnips. A. B.

ASTROLOGY.

THE WORLD ASTONISHED

AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS

MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST,

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.

THE WHITE MAN'S PARTY.

Our respected cotemporary, the Wilmington Dispatch, suggests, as the only sure means of giving to the white people of the State their proper share in the control of public affairs, the organization of a WHITE MAN'S PARTY. What will be the consequences, ultimately, of the present efforts made by Northern and Southern Loyalists, to mislead and control the colored population, and especially to alienate them from, and excite them against, the respectable, honest portion of the white people of the State, need not be a matter of doubt.—Whenever the colored people of this State shall array themselves, as a class, against the respectable and honest white people whom they have known all their lives, in politics, or trades, or interest, then they may certainly look for counter-action to the same extent, on the part of the white people.

If any one has seen, in this State, a sufficient indication of a determination, on the part of the colored people, to cut themselves off from the whites and to array themselves against them, they have seen more than we have. We have heard of no such determination on their part, nor do we believe it exists. There may be a few vicious colored people, who have been misled by bad white men, who feel hostile to the whites, but we believe the number to be small.

Unless the white people of the State are untrue to themselves, and determine upon a course of total indifference to the future condition of the State—refuse to register and to vote, there is no doubt but that the control of the State will be in the hands of the intelligent white people, with the co-operation and approval of the intelligent colored people. If, however, they should be indifferent, there will no doubt spring up a black man's party and a white man's party. Such a state of things we should deprecate. We believe there is no necessity now for these two parties. The whites and blacks must live together—their interests are the same, and they should do all in their power to promote each other's welfare. These are our feelings. We have no hostility to the blacks. We would not harm one of them, but do them good; yet the situation demands prudence, on the part of both races, to avoid enmity and strife. Nothing could promote this enmity and strife so much as a division into a white man's party and a black man's party. Let both races work together for the mutual benefit and happiness of each.

Have the blacks been advised by bad white men to array themselves against the whites among whom they have been raised? Have they been told that the Southern whites are their enemies? Do they not know this to be false? Have they been advised and excited to opposition and to feelings of hostility to the whites? Do they not see that the object of those who thus excite them, is a mean personal or partizan one? And what, if these enemies to the peace and harmony of the two races and of the South should succeed in their nefarious schemes, will be the result? Suppose they should carry their wicked aims into effect and by this means drive out from the South our best white people; who will take their places? This country must be populated. It must have either the increase of the present white and black populations and emigration from abroad, or, if the respectable white people are driven out, the land will be filled by the laboring population of the North and of foreign lands.—Will the increase of emigration from abroad help the blacks? Will the white laborers of other countries share with the blacks the profits of labor, equally protect their interests or care for their welfare? Will they not, by force of circumstances, compel the blacks to pursue menial callings almost entirely, as at the North, or force them to abandon their homes and go elsewhere?—These things ought to be thought of by the colored people. Above all, they should carefully avoid every thing that would alienate them from their old owners and their long tried friends, to whom alone they would go for help or friendship in the time of need. If it be avoidable, we want no "White Man's Party," nor a "Black Man's Party," but we want a settled, reliable, good government, which labors to provide for the interests of all classes and races, by leaving to their natural operation the social customs of society, while it carefully guards alike the civil rights of all men.

A CURIOUS class of witnesses have thus far been brought by the prosecution to testify against Surratt. Dye, the witness who was troubled with dreams, and who remembered Surratt's face, because he had "frequently seen it in sleep," it appears was arrested in Philadelphia in the early part of the present year for passing counterfeit money.

Cleaver, another witness, has been lately convicted of rape and murder, and is now at large on bail awaiting a new trial. Hobart and Blinn, other witnesses, have contradicted outside what they said in court, and the negro woman who said she saw Surratt at his mother's house, on the evening of the assassination, saw him but a few minutes, and had never seen him before, nor since, until confronted with him in court.

If Surratt is guilty, let him, by all means, be convicted; but the testimony of such witnesses is eminently suggestive of Conoverism, and their statements will be received with a great deal of suspicion.

——The annual meeting of the stockholders of the N. C. & Atlantic Rail Road Company was held in Newbern on Thursday. We have heard nothing from it.

REGISTRATION ELSEWHERE.

The tone of the press in those States where registration has begun, very plainly indicates two things: First, that the white people are exceedingly indifferent or callous to the present state of things; secondly, that those who are controling the colored people in registering are playing a very fraudulent game. In almost every city or town, where registration has been had, the number of colored voters registered exceeds the number of colored men twenty-one years of age, in the town or ward. This can be accomplished in several ways, provided the colored people allow themselves to be used in this unlawful way, to swell the number of colored voters. In the first place, many colored persons are induced to register where they do not actually belong. The country is emptied to fill the towns, and the towns, vice versa, are emptied to fill the country. Secondly, it is well known that a large number of colored men are known by several different names. To all of these names they generally answer, thus: George Peacock is known in one neighborhood as such, in another he is known as George Smith, and in another as George Purdy,—taking the names of one or two of his last owners, and, finally, the name of his father. Again, hundreds of boys, 18, 19, and 20, reigister as 21. In nine cases out of ten, no one knows their ages but their old masters. Many of them are taken to be men in appearance, and boys, often claim to be 21, when perhaps they are not 19.

It is evident, from these facts, that the only way to have the registration conducted with any fairness, is to have but one honest, intelligent board of registrars for each County, who shall attend so many days at each precinct in the same County, and shall give to each person registered a certificate of his registration, so that the duty of the poll-holders will be easy and clear. In no other way can the registration in this State be safely and fairly conducted.

Our colored people, generally, we believe, are indisposed to do wrong in this matter, but it is well known how yielding they are to the superior information and trickery of bad white men, who lead them astray. Gen. Sickles ought to attach severe penalties to the crime of registering or voting improperly and unlawfully, and ought specifically to instruct the registrars to give the most serious charge to all persons who propose to register.

IT CAN BE SHOWN that the opinion of Mr. Stanbery is sustained by Chief Justice Chase in the Milligan and in the Georgia and Mississippi cases, and in his late address to the bar in this City, even if other evidences of his endorsement of the Attorney General's construction were wanting.

All the cant and clamor, therefore, with which the Radical press is now assailing that opinion, are but a cover to conceal a perfidious purpose. All the pretences for an extra session of Congress, based upon that opinion, are shams and frauds. There is every reason to believe that the Radical leaders are disappointed at the promptness with which our people have resolved to close in with the terms of Congress. While the Reconstruction act bears upon its face, and in all its phraseology, the pledge of finality, the evidences are now daily cropping out that that pledge was a delusion and a falsehood, and that the purpose is, if possible, to defeat reconstruction, even upon the harsh and grinding terms prescribed by the Radical Congress itself.

What then? Shall we falter or hesitate in the work? No,—let us rather go on, quietly and in sincerity, complying with the conditions imposed; and let the Radical party, if they will, be chargeable before the country and the world with violation of faith and a breach of its solemn assurances.

We have no objection to a meeting of Congress. Whatever is to be the result of its passionate and vindictive temper, it is better to know the worst at once than to be hung up and harrassed by perpetual uncertainty and suspense.

JUDGE KELLEY.

It is not wonderful that the Radical party should employ men to "do its dirty work," who have been remarkable for their want of either political or religious consistency. Some of the dirtiest birds that ever fouled any nest, are among the active leaders and lacqueys of the Radical party in North Carolina. If Mr. Griffin, in the following letter addressed to Mr. Kelley, is correct, Kelley must be, as we expected, rather a chief among those who come from abroad:

Hon. Wm. D. Kelley: Sir:—In your speech at a negro meeting on the 31st inst., at Washington, in the First Presbyterian church, you stated "that if Fred. Douglas was not qualified to vote in the City of Washington, it was very strange that the meanest of your race should be entitled to do so for President." This was your language published in the city papers. I have known you since the year 1828 or 1830; have known you when you were a violent Jackson, anti-Bank, anti-Whig, anti-Clay, and a strong Calhoun and pro-slavery man, of the most Copperhead kink; I knew you when you were one of Fanny Wright's followers; an Atheist of the most "damnable" kind; I knew you when you were a leader of the Philadelphia church-burners in 1844—yourself and Lewis C. Levin; I knew you when you wanted to burn down the churches that your father worshipped at, and where you received your name at the baptismal fount. All this you would have done, were it not for the gallant few, Gen. Patterson, Gen. Cadwalader, ex-Mayor Swift, Josiah Randall, and last not least, Col. Du Solle—all Protestant gentlemen, all Americans, with the exception of Patterson of '98. You are a renegade in religion as well as in politics, and a disgrace to the name and memory of your honest father and kindred. A bird that fouls his own nest is a filthy bird.

Yours, JOHN GRIFFEN.
No. 84 Catharine street, New York.

——The annual meeting of the stockholders of the North Carolina Rail Road will be held in Greensboro, on the 11th of July next.

STATE ITEMS.

——DAMAGES TO THE CROPS.—The Wilmington Journal gives most distressing accounts of the extent and seriousness of the damages done by the recent flood to the crops in the Cape Fear Section. It says:

"In Brunswick the damage is fearful.—The rice plantations have suffered seriously, part of the crop having been washed entirely away. The plantation of Col. Thomas C. McIlhenny presents a most lamentable aspect, a crevasse having appeared through the solid earth leading from the mill pond to the river about seventeen feet deep and seventy-one feet wide. The immense volume of water washing through this opening pursues its course to the river, sweeping everything before it, and causing the greatest havoc. The upper bridge over Town Creek, on the road leading from this city to Smithville, is impassable, while the water has reached the planks of the lower bridge, a fact hitherto unrecorded. The plantations of Col. John D. Taylor and Mr. Wm. Watters have also suffered seriously. The rice fields of Mr. Armand D. Young and Mr. Samuel R. Potter, between the North East and North West branches of the Cape Fear, just above this city, are several feet deep in water. Mr. Young's house is situated a mile from the river, but so great is the freshet, that no difficulty was found in proceeding with a boat containing five men directly from the house to this city. Further damage is apprehended, as on yesterday the water fell a foot, only to be again thrown back by the immense freshet which in a few days will be sweeping down the river, now rapidly rising at Fayetteville.

It is reported, also, that the water mills throughout this section have been subjected to serious injury, the greater part of the dams having been washed away, and, in some instances, wholly destroyed.

The damage done to the planting interests is fearful to contemplate. The cotton crop is almost entirely annihilated, fertilizers and manures having been completely washed out, while the corn crop has sustained very serious injury. The consequences of this fearful blow to the agricultural interests will be most terrible, every energy of our farmers having been directed to bring about an abundant yield this year.—The only course left to pursue is to push ahead and plow up the remnants of the damaged crops, and endeavor to replant, as far as possible, with corn. At best, it is a very great risk, and the yield will depend entirely on the propitiousness of the seasons."

From what we can learn, the damage has been general throughout the State. Hyde county is said to be, as it were, one broad field of water, and some of the finest plantations in Edgecombe are reported to be almost entirely submerged.

The Norfolk Day Book says:

"We learn from one of our citizens, who has just returned from a visit to North Carolina, that a very large proportion of the several counties, bordering on the Roanoke river, through which he traveled, is almost entirely under water, and that the cotton crop in that region will be greatly damaged, if not a total failure. We also hear similar accounts from other localities in the same State, as well as from other States further South.

When we reflect that so much money has been expended for fertilizers, for the present crop, and the pressing necessities of our people, and the efforts which are being put forth to relieve themselves from their present financial embarrassments, it is truly discouraging. We regret also to learn, that the present rainy season has materially damaged the wheat, which promised in most localities to be a full crop."

Truly, the situation is a deplorable one,—sufficient to excite the gravest apprehensions for the future.

—— The Norfolk Journal learns from two gentlemen from Deep Creek, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, about eight miles from Portsmouth, that the recent heavy rains have destroyed the crops in that vicinity and on the line of the canal. Water, in some of the fields, was nearly knee deep. From the Seven-Mile to the Nine-Mile post, the banks of the Canal were overflowed, and throughout the entire line the water had been increased several inches. In that section it is prophesied that corn will be very high the coming year.

——The Winston Sentinel, whose editor recently visited Stokes County, says:

"The politics of the county are on a par with the politics of other portions of the State. The old party hacks and new issue politicians have all got nigger on the brain, and seem to think that to secure the negro vote, by fair or foul means, is the ne plus ultra of all political ambition and on their success depends the success of the Radical party in this State. We understand that the meeting which was so extensively advertised to be held at Widow Mitchell's was rather a failure—none of the expected speakers being present. Ben Wilson, former Chairman of the County Court, spoke, and announced himself as a candidate for the Convention; he was followed by Morris Payne, colored, who also declared himself a candidate in opposition to Wilson. The best men of the country take but little part in the political combats, although they feel great anxiety on the subject."

—— The following items are clipped from the Wilmington Journal:

The revival at the Front Street Methodist E. Church in this city still continues. Services are held at 8½ o'clock A. M., and 8½ P. M., every day, and are conducted by Rev. L. S. Burkhead, Presiding Elder of this district, and Rev's. John N. Andrews and J. C. Thomas. So far twenty five persons have professed religion, while many more are deeply concerned in reference to the salvation of their souls.

—— WATER BELOW.—The cellars of some of the stores and residences in this city have become almost entirely submerged by the flood.

—— THE CAPE FEAR.—The rush of water down the Cape Fear, from its swollen tributaries, has prevented the tide from making up to this point for several days past.

WHEN TAXATION was to be imposed, the returns of the Commissioners of Revenue, lately made, showed the following numbers of males over twenty-one years of age in the respective wards of Richmond, viz:

	Whites.	Blacks.
Monroe Ward	1,676	537
Madison	1,440	455
Jefferson	1,200	500

These are the persons who could be found, we say, when taxation was to be imposed. But when registering comes, what do we see? In Monroe Ward 1,676 whites register 1,280 voters,—leaving nearly four hundred for absentees, while 537 blacks register 2,093 voters! Could any more palpable proof be exhibited of the monstrous frauds that have been perpetrated?

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

HOT SPRINGS, BATH CO., VA.,
June 24th, 1867.

Dear Sentinel:—My last effusion was suggested by the events of Commencement week at old Hampden Sidney. In the sentiment which the occasion produced, I neglected to state that the Board of Trustees, besides many other acts of general use to the Institution which they watch over, conferred the honorary degree of A. M. on Dr. Jno. W. Ayler, a practising physician of Prince Edward county, and the degree of D. D. on the Rev. Thos. E. Peck, Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Church government, in Union Theological Seminary,—Rev. R. T. Bunting, Nashville Tenn., the Rev. Rev. Henry Woods, Philadelphia, and the Rev. J. W. Dale, Media, Tenn.

A pleasant ride of seven miles brought us to Farmville, our depot, a "flourishing town," the centre of an intelligent community, and of a considerable trade, especially in tobacco. Journeying towards Richmond, by way of the South Side as far as the "Junction," the traveller is met by constant and repeated evidences of the passage of the armies of Gens. Lee and Grant more than two years ago. How vividly those days of unusual trial were brought back by these scenes. Here is where a straggling line drew up, tired and hungry, to check "old Phil," in his ubiquitous career. There is the blessed spot we drew our last ear of corn before the surrender! Earthworks, here and there, mark the scenes of conflict. No one who has passed this road, will ever forget the "high bridge"—the same structure that was partially destroyed by Gen. Lee (Wm.) It is now repaired and is as "skeery" as ever. The bridge is seven-eighths of a mile in length, and "high accordin," though I do not know how high. Nor will any passenger on the South Side ever forget the exhilarating jolting of the cars, and the constant trepidation, from reading the accounts of recent accidents on the line; and the fearful story retailed for the benefit of an uncertain and timid old man, that only the day before the train ran off the High Bridge. But let us not forget how much this road suffered during the war, and that with the return of real tranquility and adequate means to the country, this Road will be placed on the same footing with other lines, and kept in the order which it deserves.

At the Junction, we renew our acquaintance with the Richmond and Danville R. R., which compares most favorably with the other. Its convenient cars, arranged with high notions of comfort, its rapid and easy motion, and all the attentions which make up agreeable travel, demand a passing commendation. The tract of country through which these lines pass is not very fertile or well cultivated; the growing crops seemed encouraging, and that was all.

We reached the "hot bed of the rebellion" in four or five hours after leaving Farmville. The approach to the "doomed city" is beautiful. The expression of the Geographies, "Richmond is beautifully situated on the North side of the James," does not begin to describe the extreme beauty of the site. I doubt not that as many views of rich natural scenery and varied artistic groupings may be obtained of Richmond on the James, as of any city of equal dimensions. The vistas opening from Hollywood, from Gamble's Hill, from Chimborazo Heights, and many other places, are very fine. Belle Isle, (well named,) Libby and Castle Thunder, with all the grim remembrances of war, the still standing sentinels of the retreating army, in the bleak and blackened walls that mark the course of the fire, with other drear mementoes of the hopes of the past all vanished, salute the inquiring eye in rapid succession. It was with such feelings that I approached the city, and, stopping at the Depot, was in a fit frame almost to pen some elegiac verses or mournful threnody.

But wo to sentiment. The interminable and abominable bleating and bawling, "Hexchange," "Ballard 'ouse," were enough almost to drive sense as well as sentiment away, and all thought of an immortalizing poem vanished into thin air! You will not be surprised, therefore, to learn that your correspondent lost, beside these hopes of renown, an old and treasured gray shawl.—I had left the depot not more than a square before the loss being discovered, I went back post-haste to search for the missing article, through the cars; and received only a few smiles commiserating rather my verdancy in looking for the shawl, than the loss I had sustained. Farewell, thou relic of other days, farewell!

Richmond has rapidly recovered from the disastrous conflagration as far as external appearance is concerned. Many very large and handsome edifices have taken the place of those far more unsightly which were burned; and others still are in the course of erection. If, during the next two years, such rapid recuperation takes place the city will have lost every scar of the great agony. I learned that business was rather dull for the season.

We started early the next morning, in this direction. The Virginia Central Railroad has had the reputation of being the best road in the State, though I doubt not the roads since constructed may compare favorably with it. A gentleman who travelled with us informed us that, soon after its completion, he had written with comparative ease all the route from Richmond to Staunton. Few roads certainly evince such care and labor in its construction, and such comfort now.

The Counties nearest Richmond have nothing of natural beauty to commend them. The lowlands are wide, uninteresting, often marshy; the streams sluggish and muddy, while the higher land seems to be barren and sparsely settled. Yet this whole country is hallowed by blood; memorable for the great conflicts, mementoes of which are seen in tenantless houses, solitary chimneys, lines of fortifications and military roads. Along some of these streams, now classic, were some fine fields of standing wheat, some already cut, and others ready for the reaper. The yield promised to be abundant, and, I judge, was all harvested before the recent rains.

But speaking of wheat, I never saw any before hardly. There were seas and gulfs and oceans of it along the line of the road, especially as we approached Staunton. In Albemarle and Augusta the fields of standing wheat reminded me of the splendid miles of grain in the lower Valley, before the passage of devastation over its fair borders. Rye and oats likewise, but very little corn and tobacco, were cultivated.

You remember, doubtless, the passage of the Blue Ridge, which this road makes.—It is worth a trip to Staunton to see the mountains, even from the unsatisfactory position of a car. Hardly any scenery can surpass Rockfish Gap, the toilsome, rugged ascent to the tunnel, and the rapid, peaceful descent to Waynesboro'. I know not whether to regard the mighty mountains as symbols of majesty and strength, of immensity, duration, or of solemn repose. Certain it is, that the mind is awed in the contemplation of these monuments of a Maker's power.

But I have not reached the "Hot" yet, in my letter, and have broken you down. I'll "do" the rest of the trip next time. L.

ROCKBRIDGE ALUM SPRINGS.
OPEN JUNE 1.
This favorite and delightful watering-place, having undergone thorough renovation, is prepared to receive visitors. The owners have made every effort in the outfit and equipment to render the place more than ever attractive to those in quest of recreation, while to the invalid its medicinal waters hold out new hopes of health. It may be confidently claimed for them that they have in a great many cases relieved, and in many more cases cured, the following diseases: SCROFULA, and many chronic CUTANEOUS diseases; CHRONIC THRUSH, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA, CHRONIC DIARRHŒA, DROPSY, AFFECTIONS OF KIDNEY and BLADDER, and PILES; and, in connection with the Hot Baths, CHRONIC RHEUMATISM.
As an appetizer, a tonic, and general restorative to an enfeebled constitution, it is perhaps unrivalled amongst mineral waters. The proprietors have engaged for the approaching season

THE SENTINEL.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—The attention of parties interested is called to the Court advertisements from Washington county.

Agricultural Implements, Mechanical Tools, Labor-Saving Pump: Mitchell, Allen & Co., Newbern.

Nature's Sovereign Remedials from Plants: W. R. Prince, L. I.

C. F. McMannen, South Lowell, Orange Co., offers for $150 a six-horse power Thresher. See advertisement.

The next session of Mecklenburg Female College,—one of the first institutions in the country,—commences on the 1st of October.

An extra train will be run on the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, on the 4th of July, for the accommodation of Stockholders attending the annual meeting.

MAYOR'S COURT.—J. Marcom, white, and Mathew Freeman, colored, charged with being engaged in an affray, were fined $10 each.

Martha Miller, colored, charged with stealing a dress from Ferebe McLean, colored, was returned to the County Court.

Wm. H. Putney, charged with making an assault upon Frank Kroger with a knife, was returned to the Superior Court, and the defendant required to give a bond and security in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance.

INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF, DUMB AND THE BLIND.—The session of this institution closed the present week, and the pupils have been sent to their respective homes. During the late term, there were ninety-three pupils in attendance,—a larger number than at any previous period and one quite as large as the present facilities of the institution will admit. Additional applications are being constantly received, and it is to be hoped that such arrangements will be made to enlarge the capacity of the institution, as to afford its inestimable benefits to all that class of unfortunates for whom the noble charity was designed.

We learn that the Board of Directors have granted the excellent Principal, Mr. Palmer, leave of absence during the month of July. Sickness in his family compels him to visit the Springs of Virginia for a few weeks.

THE UNIVERSITY.—There were highly interesting meetings of the Trustees of this venerable institution, at the Executive office, in this City, on Thursday and yesterday. Business of much importance was transacted.

RADICAL SPEAKING.—A person named Armstrong, from somewhere "up North," addressed an audience of colored people and a few white persons, in front of the Court-House, in this City, on Thursday night. We learn that his remarks were of a bitter and inflammatory character. He read his speech, we also understand, and read it so badly, and with such a mutilation of the King's English, as to warrant the general impression that it was written for him by some of those who sent him out on his "evangelizing" pilgrimage.

THE SOUTHERN ORPHANS' ASSOCIATION.—We have no faith in this concern, in the face of the recent developments. But we simply mention, as an item of news, that Palmer & Co., the Managing Agents, announce in the Richmond papers that they have been the victims of a bitter persecution,—that they are "determined to do justice to their patrons," and, for that purpose, would hold their first drawing in Washington, on Thursday, the 27th., (day before yesterday,) when they "know they (we) will be able to show a fair and clear record." We shall see.

"BODY-GUARD POLKA."—We are indebted to the author for a piece of music bearing this title. It is the composition of W. H. Neave, of Salisbury, late Band-Master in the Army of the Potomac. We have no doubt it is good. Mr. Neave is an accomplished master of the musical art, and does well whatever he undertakes in that line.

WE OBSERVE that an intimation is made in many of the papers, that Mr. Jefferson Davis intends spending the summer in North Carolina at certain Mineral Springs. We do not believe there is any foundation for the rumor. If our Mineral Springs cannot attract visitors by their intrinsic value, it is mischievous to endeavor to draw them by such means. Nor would Mr. Davis lend his aid to further any such object.

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS.

RALEIGH, June 27th., 1867.

Regular meeting of the Board of Commissioners held this evening. Present:—Wm. D. Haywood, Esq., Mayor; Messrs. J. D. Royster, J. A. Moore, B. F. Cheatham, Parker Overby, J. M. Betts, A. N. McKimmon and J. J. Overby, Commissioners.

Yarborough House,	250,00
G. W. Blacknall,	199,00
Nichols, Gorman & Neathery,	131,50
	$2,629,07.

Sundry persons applied to the Board for a reduction of their taxes. Their communications were read, and, on motion of Mr. J. J. Overby, they were rejected.

Mr. Betts offered the following ordinance, which was adopted:

Be it ordained, That any person or persons, wilfully guilty of giving false alarms of fire, shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, before the Mayor, shall forfeit and pay $25 for the use of the City.

The officers of the Fire Department reported, and asked for an appropriation of $200, for the purpose of purchasing fire-buckets, &c.

Mr. McKimmon moved to allow them the amount asked for, when Mr. J. D. Royster moved to lay Mr. McKimmon's motion on the table, which was carried.

On motion, Mr. Betts was substituted, in place of Mr. Battle, on the Committee to settle the books of the city officers.

On motion, the Board adjourned.

J. J. CHRISTOPHERS, Clerk.

For the Sentinel.

MESSRS. PELL AND GALES: Gentlemen:—You will confer a favor on many, if you will explain that part of Gen. Sickles' Order No. 32, that refers to the selling of spirituous liquor.

Is it intended to apply to the country, as well as city dealers? Many of our people think the order was to prevent the soldiers from using too much liquor about town, and was not intended to prevent the country dealer from selling his neighbor a quart of brandy for family purposes. We are determined to obey the law in every particular, and want advice. There are many of our poor people that could not buy a gallon of brandy, and, if they are denied the privilge of getting a quart, they will have to deny it to their families, but we will do anything rather than violate the law knowingly.

WAKE.

June 28th, 1867.

[Gen. Order 32 is undoubtedly general in its application. After the 1st of July, spirituous liquors cannot be retailed anywhere in the State in less quantities than a gallon, except in licensed inns. An inn is defined to be, in the explanatory order, "a place where food and lodging are provided and furnished for pay to travelers and sojourners."—Sentinel.

THE MANNER OF THE MAN.

General Sheridan's dispatch of the 22d, to Gen. Grant, declining, unless ordered absolutely, to extend the registration in Louisiana, is a novel exhibition, not only of military discipline and subordination, but of the decencies of office. In such form of communication as any one else would regard as an order, (says the Baltimore Sun,) it is suggested to him by his superior officer to extend the registration in Louisiana until August 1st, and he replies, expressing his regrets that he "should have to differ with the President," but, incredible as it seems, says it must be recollected that he has "been ordered to execute a law to which the President has been in bitter antagonism." The fact that the order was not as explicit as it might have been, does not excuse the insubordinate tone and temper of Gen. Sheridan's dispatch, nor justify his unbecoming attempt to set up his construction of law against that of the Attorney General. In addition to this, as the National Intelligencer justly remarks, the publication of the dispatch "by telegraph from New Orleans simultaneously with its transmission by telegraph to Washington, was an act of intolerable insolence. It is, in fact, a dispatch to the Republican leaders, and not to Gen. Grant." If officers of the army may, with impunity, querulously object to the orders of their superiors, and even make a display of contumacy, by telegraphing it to the country, there must be an utter subversion of all military discipline. Even worse than this is the virtual recognition, by General Sheridan, of the leaders of a party as superiors to whom he is to report, as well as to his commanding officer, and whose approval is to be courted rather than that of his military chief.

MANIFEST DESTINY.—In his speech at Boston Mr. Seward said:

"I know that nature designs that this whole continent—not merely these thirty six States, but this whole continent—should be, sooner or later, within the magic circle of the American Union. (Loud cheers.) The people in North Carolina and Georgia may try to get out as much as they please, and you here in Massachusetts may try to keep them out as much as you please, God and nature have decided against both, and you are to live together as brothers in unity and harmony.

"Give me only this one assurance, that there shall never be an unlawful resistance by an armed force to the President bearing the authority of the United States, and give me then fifty, forty, or thirty more years of life, and I will engage to give you the possession of the American continent and the control of the entire world.—(Cheers.) Deny me that simple thing of the acquiescence of the people in their own choice, and I will not pledge you the continuance, the existence of this Union through half the period which we have carried it through, with the cost and sacrifices of the greatest civil war the world has ever seen. The moral of my subject is loyalty and patriotism, devotion to your Constitution and laws; and whatever is wrong in the laws, or in the customs or the habits of society, trust to their correction through your schools, your churches, your political assemblies, but never suffer an enemy to raise his hand against the nationality or the Union of the United States." (Loud cheers.)

General Pope uttered a bitter sarcasm the other day, when he told one of his subjects that unless the Southern States acted under the S. S. S. S. legislation, Congress would be still harsher, and in twelve months the South generally would be reduced to "the condition of Tennessee and Missouri!"

Mr. Schenck has received responses enough to ensure a July session of Congress.

GENERAL NEWS.

General Buckner was sued in the Chancery Court of Kentucky by the Louisville and Nashville railroad for the destruction of the Green River bridge, and also for the destruction of other property along the line of the railroad, committed while he had command of Kentucky in 1861. The decision of the Chancery Court was given in favor of the railroad, and the General's property was sold to pay the damages allowed. The case has just been reopened and a new trial granted, the effect of which will be to restore the General's property to him, setting aside the judgement of $59,000 against him, which, as we stated in our first notice of the case, was obtained while he was in the Confederate army, in 1862, and of which he knew nothing until some time after the close of the war. This is the first case brought up under the amnesty act of last winter, which forbids and prevents suits being brought against officers and soldiers of either army for any acts preformed under military compulsion and by color of military authority.

HELPER, a prominent Radical, says:—"On the premises of no respectable white person; in the mansion of no honorable private citizen; no lawfully convened public assembly; in no rationally moral or religious society; in no decently kept hotel; in no restaurant worthy of the patronage of white people; in no reputable store or shop; in no place whatever where any occupant or visitor is of Caucasian blood—should the loathsome presence of any negro or negress ever be tolerated." Helper differs from other Radicals by frankly expressing his aversion.—They agree with him perfectly but are afraid to say so.—Rich. Dispatch.

THE JULY SESSION OF CONGRESS.—It is now a settled fact that Congress will meet on the 3d of July, and that a quorum will be in attendance; and in reply to the question, What will they do? the answer is, from all quarters, pass a declaratory act in respect to the military reconstruction law and adjourn. We incline to the opinion that Congress should do something more than this. There is, for instance, no justice in exempting Government bonds from taxation. Whatever might have been the excuse while the war was going on, when the Government wanted money, and had to resort to the most feasible scheme in its power to get it, there is now no necessity for exempting a single dollar, no matter how nor where invested, from taxation.—Washington Republican.

INSULTING THE DEAD.—The Army and Navy Journal, June 8, 1867, contains, in a letter from Gettysburg, the following notice of the manner in which the graves of brave Confederate soldiers are treated by men who prate about the cruelties of Andersonville:

"Along all these roads the saddest mementoes of the gigantic struggles are still visible in the scattered graves in the adjacent fields. Another year, however, will obliterate all traces of where so many rebel leaders and followers lay buried. In very few cases the graves are respected, but as a general thing the ground is cultivated without regard to the remains of the misguided men who lie beneath."

That will read well in history.

The following is published with satisfaction in the Baltimore American (Radical). Had it been "Wilson" and "Richmond," it would have been a "rebel outrage:"

BOSTON INTERRUPTIONS.—During the delivery of a speech by President Johnson on Saturday afternoon, in Boston, after stating that he would not make a speech or address, some person in the audience proposed "three cheers for Congress," which were at once given.

Secretary Seward, who followed the President, was interrupted with "three cheers for General Sheridan," "three cheers for our President by election," and when he announced that two years of Mr. Johnson's term have expired, there were cries of "good," "good."

REGISTRATION IN VIRGINIA.—In Portsmouth, at 1 o'clock Tuesday, whites, 489; colored, 227. Good.

In Norfolk, just the other way. The negroes outnumber the whites so far.

In Botetourt up to Saturday evening 182 whites to 96 blacks.

In Lynchburg, so far: whites, 268; blacks, 339.

Bishop Early has registered.

In District No. 1, in Amherst, up to Tuesday night: whites, 104; blacks, 215. At Amherst Courthouse on Monday only 40 whites against 200 blacks.—Petersburg Index.

ABOLITION OF THE SOUTHERN PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENTS.—Letters received in Washington from prominent members of both Houses of Congress indicate that, at the coming meeting of that body, the provisional governments now existing in the South will be entirely abolished, and the territorial plan, advocated by Senator Sumner and Hon. Thaddeus Stevens some time ago, adopted. Prominent southern Unionists declare that while these governments remain in force thorough reconstruction is impossible.—Washington Correspondence.

GRANT AND SHERIDAN.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun writes:

General Grant has replied to General Sheridan's last letter, but refuses to give the reply for publication until the return of President Johnson. It is not known but by a few what the reply was. It is stated, on good authority, however, that he merely ordered General Sheridan to act as usual until the return of the President, when definite orders will be given.

Previous to his departure for Canada, from New York, Jeff Davis addressed a letter to a friend in Mississippi, from which the following is an extract:

"It was my wish, as soon as opportunity was at hand, to have hastened to a reunion with my countrymen in Mississippi; but, yielding to controlling considerations, I have curbed the desire, but only, I trust, postponed for a brief time the pleasure."

NASHVILLE, TENN., June 24.—A fire occurred this evening at the penitentiary, destroying the workshop on the east side. A large quantity of cabinet work, cedar-ware, agricultural implements, machinery, stock, etc., were burned. The loss is estimated at $80,000. Insurance, $25,000.

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—On Saturday the wages of the workmen engaged in the cotton and woolen mills located at Manayunk were reduced about twenty-five per cent. To-day the men engaged in twenty mills refused to go to work at the new rates, consequently operations had to be stopped until the difficulties are settled.

The Philadelphia Inquirer says "that if the Attorney General's opinion is law, then Congress had better burn the reconstruction act." Lord Mansfield once said the same thing to Dunning. "If that is law," said the angry man, "I will go home and burn my books." "No, no, my lord," said the sharp barrister, "don't do that, but go home and read them."

Secretary Stanton has written General Sickles declining to grant his request to be relieved from command of the Carolinas. It will be remembered that General Sickles sent his request to the Secretary of War.

Hon. B. H. Hill, of Georgia, is writing a series of earnest articles, imploring the people not to sanction or vote for the military programme.

Gen. Abbott, Gen. Estes and other Northern men, owners of the Mill and Bladen Land Company, lately destroyed by fire, request the Agent of the Associated Press at this point, to emphatically deny that the mill was fired by unreconstructed rebels, as stated in the Washington dispatches to the New York Herald.

The fire occurred on Monday and was purely the result of accident or the carelessness of the employees. They also deny the statement that Northern men are persecuted on account of their political sentiments.

MEXICAN NEWS.

NEW ORLEANS, June 28.

A rumor is current that Sheridan will be relieved by Rousseau, in consequence of which the Times this afternoon comes out with a eulogistic biography of the latter General.

The Picayune has the following Mexican extracts from the Galveston News of the 24th:

"The 15th, of May will be a grand national festival day in honor of the victory over Maximilian.

The Mexican Press is firm and unanimously in favor of Maximilian's execution.

The Liberals appear to be getting by the ears as to who were the greatest traitors to the Republic—every Mexican accusing every other Mexican of treason.

It is stated that Escobado has threatened to depose Juarez should the latter not order the execution of Maximilian."

YELLOW FEVER—THE EMPRESS CARLOTTA, &c.

NEW YORK, June 28.

The steamer Union, from Europe, 18th inst., has arrived. The Yellow Fever is at Mauritous. There are 200 deaths daily. 10,000 persons had died.

The Memorial Diplomatique says that Carlotta, on hearing of Maximilian's capture and danger, appeared suddenly to recover her clearness of intellect, and said the Mexican nation was incapable of so odious an act as to raise a murderous hand against a Prince who had devoted himself with so much self-denial to the regeneration of the country.

The Czar left a large sum for the Paris poor and spent £200,000 in Paris.

THE SENTINEL.

SATURDAY JUNE 29, 1867.

STILL, STILL WITH THEE.

Still, still with Thee, when purple morning breaketh,
When the bird waketh and the shadows flee;
Fairer than morning, lovelier than the daylight,
Dawns the sweet consciousness, I am with Thee!

Alone with Thee, amid the mystic shadows
The solemn hush of nature newly born;
Alone with Thee, in breathless adoration,
In the calm dew and freshness of the morn.

As in the dawning o'er the waveless ocean,
The image of the morning star doth rest,
So in this stillness, thou beholdeth only
Thine image in the waters of my breast.

Still, still with Thee! as to each new-born morning,
A fresh and solemn splendor still is given,
So doth this blessed consciousness awaking,
Breathe each day nearness unto Thee and Heaven.

When sinks the soul, subdued by toil, to slumber,
Its closing eye looks up to Thee in prayer,
Sweet the repose beneath Thy wings o'ershading,
But sweeter still, to wake and find Thee there.

So shall it be at last, in that bright morning,
When the soul waketh, and life's shadows flee;
Oh! in that hour, fairer than daylight dawning,
Shall rise the glorious thought—I am with Thee.

WHAT HAVE I LOST?

A good old man, a few days since, was speaking of his conversion with a skeptic, who was bringing up various arguments to prove that religion was all a delusion. The old man was unlearned, and could not confute him by reasoning, but he used the simple logic of a true Christian heart, and there was no gainsaying it.

"I have tried," he said, "to serve my God for fifty years, and have found sweet enjoyment in His service. He has been a sure support and comfort in every trouble and every sorrow. Now, if it is all a delusion, what have I lost?"

The man had no answer for him. Well he knew that his boasted reasoning would never afford a solace to the heart when the storms beat and the floods rose around it.

"But if religion is true," continued the old man, "what have you lost?" And well might he ask that question, and well would it be for that scoffer if he would ponder it deeply. He had lost his immortal soul if he persisted in his unbelief.

"My religion has made me happy in this life," said the aged man referred to, "and when I come to the end of it, I expect to be happier still. What have I lost by being a Christian?"

There was never yet an infidel death-bed made happy by its boasted philosophy. In that solemn hour when the soul stands face to face with its Creator, it knows how vain are all cloaks it may seek to throw about to hide itself from His all-seeing eye. Sometimes the proud heart mails itself in a calm exterior, that the world may not witness its agony, but oftener the anguish of despair masters every other feeling, and the hearts that are nearest and dearest are wrung with tenfold grief, as they must stand by helplessly, while the poor lost soul

"Raves round the walls of her clay tenement,
Runs to each avenue and shrieks for help,
But shrieks in vain."

Oh, it were worth a life-time of crossbearings here to gain the victory over death alone. But after death we know there comes the judgment. Oh, what eternal gain to have Christ for our advocate then.

The First Twenty Years.—Live as long as you may, the first twenty years form the greater part of your life. They appear so when they are passing; they seem to be so when we look back to them; and they take up more room in our memory than all the years that succeed them.

If this be so, how important that they should be passed in planting good principles, cultivating good tastes, strengthening good habits, fleeing all those pleasures which lay up bitterness and sorrow for time to come! Take good care of the first twenty years of your life, and you may hope that the last twenty will take good care of you.

Following the Lord Fully.—Walking once in a pitchy dark night, in company with a friend who knew the road well, I said to him, "I shall follow you, so as to be right." After a little, I stumbled into a ditch. "You have led me into a ditch," I said. "Then you have not followed me exactly," was the reply, "for I have kept free." I had to acknowledge that I had gone a little to one side, thinking that of no consequence. So it is, thought I, with the Christian following Christ; so long as he follows him exactly, he is safe—but when he turns aside, however little, he is liable to stumble into the ditch.

Some one has written: "I have never found pride in a noble nature, or humility in an unworthy mind. Of all trees, I observe that God has chosen the vine, a low plant that creeps upon the helpful wall; of all beasts, the soft and patient lamb; of all fowls, the mild and guileless dove. When God appeared to Moses, it was not in the lofty cedar nor the spreading palm; but a bush—an humble, abject bush. As if he would, by these selections, check the conceited arrogance of man. Nothing produceth love like humility; nothing hate like pride."

GENERAL ORDER NO. 32.

HEADQUARTERS, 2ND MILITARY DISTRICT,
Charleston, May 30.

General Orders No. 32.

1. Any citizen, a qualified voter according to the requirements of the Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2nd, 1867, and the act supplemental thereto, passed March 23rd, 1867, is eligible to office in the Provisional government of North and South Carolina. All persons appointed to office will be required to take the oath prescribed by the act aforesaid and to file the same duly subscribed and sworn with the Post Commander.

2. All citizens assessed for taxes, and who shall have paid taxes for the current year, are qualified to serve as jurors. It shall be the duty of the proper civil officers, charged with providing lists of jurors, to proceed within their several jurisdictions, without delay, and ascertain the names of all qualified persons, and place them on the jury lists, and from such revised lists all jurors shall be hereafter summoned, and drawn in the manner required by law.

3. All citizens are eligible to follow any licensed calling, employment or avocation, subject to such impartial regulations as may be prescribed by municipal or other competent authority, not inconsistent with common rights and the Constitution and laws of the United States. The bond required as security shall not exceed the penal sum of one hundred dollars. One or more sureties being citizens and worth, in the aggregate, double the amount of the bond, over and above just debts, will be sufficient.

4. The Mayors of cities and other municipal and town officers, and all Sheriffs, Magistrates and Police officers, are required to be vigilant and efficient in maintaining order, and in the discharge of their duties. They will be expected to co-operate with the military authorities.

5. Post commanders may summon to their aid, whenever the ordinary means at their disposal shall not be sufficient to execute their orders, such of the civil officers, and as many of the citizens, within the territorial limits of the military post, as may be necessary, and the neglect or refusal of any person to aid and assist in the execution of the orders of the Commanding officer will be deemed a misdemeanor, punishable by such fine and imprisonment as may be imposed by a military tribunal approved by the Commanding General.

6. No license for the sale of intoxicating liquors in quantities less than one gallon or to be drank on the premises shall be granted to any person other than an Inn-keeper. The number of such licenses shall be determined, and the fees to be charged for each license shall be prescribed and collected by the municipal or town authorities and appropriated exclusively for the benefit of the poor. If any person shall be found drunk on the premises where liquor is sold the license may be revoked by any magistrate. The tax imposed by the Internal Revenue laws of the United States is an additional charge and does not excuse the person from the observance of local regulations, nor exempt him from the payment of such other license fees as may be imposed by the municipal or other competent authorities.

7. All contracts hereafter made for the manufacture, sale or transportation, storage or insurance of intoxicating liquors shall within this military district be deemed and treated as against public policy, and no civil action, suit or proceedings for the enforcement of any such contract shall be entertained in any court.

8. In public conveyances on railroads, highways, streets or navigable waters, no discrimination because of color or caste shall be made, and the common rights of all citizens therein shall be recognized and respected. The violation of this regulation will be deemed a misdemeanor and render the offender liable to arrest and trial by a Military tribunal to be designated by the commanding General, besides such damages as the injured party may sue for and recover in the civil Courts.

9. The remedy by distress for rent is abolished. Where lands are leased, or let out for hire or rent, cotton, corn or other produce of the same, when severed from the land, may be impounded, but the same shall not be removed. Any cotton, corn or other produce so impounded shall be held as security for the rent or hire so claimed and may be sold in satisfaction of any judgment for the same, Provided, that any unsatisfied claim for labor bestowed upon the cultivation of such cotton, corn, or other produce, shall, in no case, be postponed to any demand for rent or hire. But to the extent of such claim for labor there shall be a lien on such cotton, corn and other produce having preference over any claim for rent or hire.

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 2d, 1867.]

Whereas, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX.
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER.

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowlege and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, Houses of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2 186, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I,———, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ———; that I have resided in said State for ———months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ———, or the parish of ———, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God."

which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each, representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5 That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section.
